THE ARRESTED AGITATORS

The examination of Withernood, Murphy and McVey, the Alhambra agitators, closed with having assisted in driving a car of women and children out of the city, and before the Commission. Paul B. Deaderick, the Chinese witness introduced, corroborated the statement made by them and the day before. Some of them fired one and some another of the defendants in the park who broke into their house and there were taken up to their ankles and taken to Portland. It seems there are eight or ten little slacks of Alhambra, which the Chinese call the Chinamen, each testified to being arrested by the Chinese and taken to the Chinese and he was robbed of $500.00, as interpreted by Sid Bick, a stranger forward, and they readily identified each other. Some of the Chinamen said it was a fair consideration time.

Wilson's father and mother testified to being at home and nothing about 7 o'clock in the morning. He testified that he and Anderson testified that he and Wilson were together and he was certain that Wilson was not in the city at that time. He swore positively that he had not tried to drive out the Chinamen, and that he was in bed and in bed at the time it was done. He was then called to meet and the hearing continued, and she was sworn to testify that she was not in the city at that time. He swore to testify to seeing him about the time and again early in the morning.

MAIL TO AUSTRIA. I am currently quoted on the street that Carl Scott, of the Trip Notes has the contract for carrying the mail between New York and Vienna, and that he is going to put on the line again in the near future. For his own property, it is to be hoped the report is a mistake. Six thousand dollars a year, such terms as to be offered by the German and Portland is no pay at all. It is worth saying there is no money in it at that. The rumor has its continuance. — 4/24/18

MAIL TO VIENNA, AUSTRIA. Next week I will have a large consignment of mail, twenty three caskets of youthfulness and youthfulness. The mail goes all from the Williams estate only to the last one (comb). The consignment will be faced at Miller's, New York, and the consignment will be sent to the consignment. I will want lack of them for a day, and I then go to special train to their destination, the trip taking about twenty-two hours.

MAIL TO VIENNA, AUSTRIA. Three classes through the city yesterday from each of freight from Victoria, destined for the Colonial and Indian exhibition to be held shortly in London. This makes eight carloads in all. "What was there in the eight cars to be exhibited?" asked the consignment. "A sample of everything that British Columbia produces," was the comprehensive reply.

HONORARY. THE COSETS.

Judgment by default was rendered yesterday by Judge Smith against J. S. Holland and Hot el and Saloon and E. C. Holland, for $2,000, payable for $1,250, and costs. This is an old claim brought November, 1885, to recover on a promissory note.

Yesterday, in Justice Davis's court, L. Mc Gregor, a butcher, brought an attachment suit against James Donahue, proprietor of the St. John hotel on Thirtieth street, to recover $24.

A suit in equity has been commenced in the state circuit court by Peter Gottlieb against Frank S. Northrup and Annie S. Northrup, March 2d, 1884, defendants executed their promissory note payable for $500, for one year from date and secured by a mortgage on lots 6 and 7, block 21, Watson's addition.
Also lot 6, block 1, of that addition. Only one of the defendants is a resident of this city, therefore pray judgment for the balance due,
together with interest, and assize that the mortgage be foreclosed.

In the case of Hyatt vs. the H. R. A. C. C.,

In the case of Shively vs. Bridget Grant, Shively vs. L. A. Noyes and Shively vs. Parker A. Wilby, judgments of non suit were entered against the plaintiffs. In the case of Shively vs. Noyes, the defendant was the Prudential Mortgage and Trust Investment company, a defendant to the bill of complaint was argued and submitted.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 23.

Judge Jenkins will announce decisions to-day as follows: In the case of Edward Martin vs. Thomas A. Martin, exceptions to receiver's compensation L. A. Plummer, a. H. H. Plummer, in remembrance.

ST. BERNARD.

In Judge Keane's court yesterday the case of James Steel vs. Lilla A. James, guardian of foreign, James, was then set at plaintiffs' request for preliminary hearing. The case was entered 1, 1884, James gave bond of $25,000 to Steel that he would execute to him a good and sufficient deed to Lilla A. James, guardian of foreign, for the sum of $10,000 on the 1st day of December, 1884, the further sum of $25,000 to Lilla A. Steel, a note that he had paid to Lilla A. Steel, the sum of $10,000. James executed his note to him for valuable consideration for $2000. In the meantime George A. James was adjudged insane and Lilla A. Steel was appointed guardian of her person. When the second payment became due Steel offered Mrs. James the $4000 note and the balance in money, and asked that the deed to the property be given over to her. The court was refused to do so, and Mrs. Steel consequently brought her suit into court for adjudication as to the proper arrangement, and since then has been twice in court on the matter.

DR. HAYES' PRELIMINARY SESSION.

Not more than ago the committee passed an ordinance providing for the extension of Chapman street from the corner of the corner of Taylor and Fourteenth streets. This took in a portion of the Kanam train. The voters appointed made a report setting forth that Jacob K. Kamm had been injured by the Kanam train damages to the amount of $100.00, and $400.00 benefits, and that Charles L. Kamm would be presented by the Kamms children, and extension of the first writ of damage their property a far greater amount than that awarded them by the viewers, and therefore took an appeal to the superior court, and asked the court to benefit and damages, to the state circuit court, also an appeal from the whole of the result of the viewers. The case came up before Judge Smith and a jury yesterday, under the title of the City of Portland vs Jacob and C. I.

 Kamms (city attorney A. M. Tanner made an argument in behalf of the city and C. A. Lough appeared for the Kamms. The case was given to the jury about 4 o'clock. The question for them to decide is what amount of damages appears to be entitled to.

SIDNEY DELL INTERVIEWED.

He Tells a Reporter of his Old Home about the Cold Weather and the Oregon Cattle Raisers.

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 10.—It was ten years ago when Mr. Sidney Dell, of Astoria, Ore., and his party, while on a tour to see the ruins of the city, were "ward" "I had to go on an several docks without arrest," said Mr. Dell, "therefore I could not go to the city. I have not all the time cannot realize the change that came over Astoria in the last ten years. The size of the new houses, too, is something new to me."

"Tell me something about your old home, said a Constellation man to Mr. Dell. "Oregon is a very fine state," was his answer. "I have lived in Oregon for only about 5,000 inhabitants. Portland has about 50,000 inhabitants, but the suburban villages are not included in the city limits. The commercial metropolis of the Northwest, the wholesale trade of the city is here in Astoria. Portland is the worst city of the Northwest. There are a number of very rich men living there."

"Tell me something about the climate of Oregon," said another.

"Western Oregon is almost without summer as we mean. The people live in the night might be called perpetual spring. One can wear the same suit the year around. In the winter it is not so warm. It is not on a heavy overcoat and, for a week or so, I saw ladies go in to wear a flannel dress. I saw children growing in an open field in the winter. The temperature in the camp in the latter part of January the thermometer was 40 degrees. The temperature there did not get lower than twenty-five degrees above zero. In Eastern Oregon the climate is more rigorous than in Western Oregon."

"How is the day decided up here?"

"The day is decided by the day star. The day begins with the first of the Postmaster Roby yesterday received a letter from M. J. Bell, government supervising architect, stating that a bill has been recently introduced into congress authorizing the construction of a building for the accommodation of the postoffice here, and therefore the department at Washington is desirous of obtaining full information as to the necessity for the construction of such a building.

He forwards a long list of questions which he wishes to answer. First, he wants to know the amount of floor space the postoffice now occupies and whether it is sufficient for the present business, and if not, how much additional space is needed. He also wants to know how much the postal business has increased during the past ten years, what is the present expense of the office, and the next ten years and many others. A similar list of questions concerning the other federal offices here. Mr. Roby is anxious to answer the questions of Mr. Bell as soon as possible, and has offered to devote his profitable occupation for his leisure moments for some time. Mr. Bell finally wishes to know what will be the cost of the building, centrally located for such a building as it is necessary to erect.

It is high time we had more accommodations for the government. The postoffice here has the who's of the ground floor

The resolution passed, and the chair, appointed as a conference committee, the houses of Allen A. Lewis, J. Goldsmith, Mayes C. O'Brien, Felling, E. C. Lewis, J. Goldsmith, A. Towne, and Smith. He then adjourned.

RECEIVED

A son was born yesterday to the wife of John A. Andrew Heimberg.

Mrs. Han, a woman's power in the city, meets with a great deal of success in her efforts between Jefferson and Oakland.

There is to be a wedding yesterday to Peter Hanes and his bride, at 3111 Westside (Clark street) at 10 o'clock. Miss Schell, a daughter of Wagner's minister, disdained at Seattle early this week. But if the company there and part centered in the Sound. The colored man.

Some members of Yarnes will meet at Masonic hall, being a full well meeting of members in a social way with the professor. The evening will be a very pleasant one.

The funeral of James J. Collins, the carpenter who accidentally met his death Tuesday night, by falling from a building, will take place this morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. J. J. Collins, 1011 Third street.

First prize, the fellow who assaulted Mr. Sealy on Second street, Tuesday afternoon, was fined $5 in the police court yesterday for drunkenness, and will be hauled over the coals to-day on a charge of assault.

William Stolman, who for some time past has filled the position of driver of horse car number 4 was discharged yesterday. Thomas J. O'Brien, charged with the same offense, and latter company was installed in his stead.

Deputy S. Marshall Davis, of Union county, arrived here yesterday, having a custody of E. O'Brien, charged with the same offense. Some inquiries on government land. It seems that he thought he had a right to cut some timber which he had not the right to.
